Report on “Unlocking Approaches in Biological Research” on 24-26th July 2020.

Two International webinars were organized by the biotechnology department. First, International Webinar series titled “Unlocking Approaches in Biological Research” was organized for three days along with the Department of Botany (SJC) from 24-26th July 2020.

Three speakers delivered the talks on three consecutive days. Dr. Joseph Selvin (Pondicherry University) has delivered the first day talk on “Metagenomic approaches in exploration and exploitation of Microbiomes”, followed by the second day talk on “An insight into the research in Panax ginseng: the physiology, breeding and the omics” by Dr. Padmanaban Mohanan (Seoul National University) and final day talk by Dr. D. Agatheswaran (Lund University) on “Blood forming cells – regeneration for life and the evil twins”. Totally 325 participants have attended the Webinar through Google Meet. The Participants benefitted were under graduate students, Post Graduate students, Research Scholars, Scientists and Faculties from various Institutions in and around India.
